

Dear Marisa,

This week we saw yet another candidate bow out of the race for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate in Massachusetts. As the field cedes to Washington and special interests, our campaign has grown and continues to be fueled by our grassroots efforts. I am honored and humbled at the outpouring of support from individuals across the Commonwealth.

As the end of the year approaches, the pundits will be looking at how much each candidate has raised. With that said, we need your help. Can I count on you today for a donation of \$5, \$10, \$50, or \$100? Click here to contribute!

Well, as I've said before, I'm in this race until the end. This is a fight we can win. Massachusetts needs a true progressive to advocate for the issues that matter most. We're talking about the meat and potatoes, and our campaign has a real jobs plan. Scott Brown and his friends Mitch McConnell and the Koch Brothers continue to be a thorn in the side of progress. When elected, I'll stand up to the old guard obstructionists and firmly tell them "No. Not this time. Not anymore. Not ever again." This is not how government should work for the people and certainly not how our founders envisioned how Congress does business.

Thank you again for your support.

-Marisa
